“Gina Lyons lit a candle I can't believe you're no longer with us, Aunt Patsy. You were one of the most hard working people I've ever known in my life. You had more strength than you ever realized. I will never forget the day I found out you had breast cancer as a child. You fought the illness, beat the odds, and lived your life with grace. I never once heard you complain, or ask "why me?". You never let it stop you from laughing and enjoying your life. The beast reared it's ugly head again, and once again you beat the odds. You had the strength of a mighty warrior, but your body was broken. May your beautiful sweet soul inspire the heavens as you did me for so many years. Thank you for the being the most loving Godmother and Aunt to me! I will always cherish the love you gave me and the dear memories of you embedded in my heart and soul until the end of time. Rest in peace, sweet Godmother!

“Aunt Patsy taught her nieces to be strong women, she raised two wonderful daughters! A holiday or party will not be the same without you. I know you will always be looking after us, no one should suffer like you did it was unfair! I love you and my mom will never be the same not having you around. Love You Aunt Pat.

“ Of all “The Sista’s” aunt Patsy had one of the most important as well as most needed qualities- her ability to laugh and smile. That is something I will never forget. When I think about my grandmother and my aunts there are certain things that immediately come to mind and Aunt Patsy’s ability to laugh and see the humor in even the worst situations is something to treasure as well as something that’s hard to come by and something I will always treasure. I can’t picture aunt Patsy without a smile. While I’m sure there were times, I struggle to recall a single occasion where she was ever truly angry. I never heard her cuss anyone- which is a feat in itself, and I never saw her without a smile. Aunt Patsy worked harder and more tirelessly than anyone I’ve known and without complaint. To be able to get past the struggles she encountered and deal with the hardships put on her plate while not only always carrying her head up high but carrying it with a smile- whether it was the passing of her beloved husband and my beloved uncle Keith or chemotherapy on her lunch breaks truly shows what a strong, devoted, selfless, and loving person she was. Aunt Patsy is and rightfully should be a role model to anyone who knew her or even crossed her path. She exemplified hard work, love, and compassion. She exuded happiness and devotion. All of these things on her own accord. There are not many people like aunt Patsy left out there in this world today. I am truly grateful to have been able to not only encounter someone of her stature but experience her love. Even while laying in a hospital bed sick she brought up and talked to me about my health issues. The void she is leaving is one that can’t be filled. I will always love and truly miss aunt Patsy, but I will also always cherish the memories and examples she left me. I love you aunt Patsy, I always will.

“ I worked with Patsy years ago at Statewide Title, 45 years ago now. I know she will be missed but she's having many reunions and we'll see her again. 💕💕

“ Patsy,
I will always remember you my friend; memories of when we clicked from the first moment we met when I started with Riverway Title. I sincerely appreciated your kind and warm friendship and I will miss our conversations and laughter. You were and will forever be my Ladybug.

XOXO,

Thank you for gracing me with your presence

“ I knew Patricia Hannah through her two beautiful daughters Stacy and Tessa. She needs to get credit for raising two wonderful girls who loved her very much. Patricia always had that perfect smile that warmed each heart that knew her. She responded to many of my Facebook posts as I did hers. She had a heart of gold and will be missed by her girls and so many others. GOD BLESS her family during this difficult time especially around the holidays. I know Christmas will never be the same without her.

“ Patsy, what do I say. I miss you so much already. You have always meant so much to me and you were always there. You have always encouraged me and inspired me. I love you my dear friend but I know you are no longer in pain and in a much better place. To Stacy, Tessa and families, I am so sorry for your loss. You are all in my thoughts and prayers.

Love you all,
Laura

“ Mom, Where do I begin
Those special memories of you will always bring a smile, if only I could have you back for just a little while. Then we could sit and talk again just like we used to. I’m going to miss everything about you, your contagious laugh and beautiful smile, I’m going to miss all the times you would call or text me because you needed help with anything tech, you were always so amazed that I could fix or figure out the smallest things. You always meant so very much to me, I wish I would’ve met you sooner to love you longer. The fact that you’re no longer here will always cause me pain but it comforts me to know that you are no longer in pain. you’re forever in my heart and will miss you dearly and cant wait for the day you come and visit me in my dreams. Love you always, Cynthia “ Mom, You're not in pain anymore, or out of breathe or suffering. You're with dad now resting, running and enjoying life finally. Life will never be the same because you're not in it with us. I love you beyond words can describe. Rest my beautiful mother because we will take everything you taught us and carry it forward.

Love you always and forever Tessa
