

Sean Andrew Lindberg

August 3, 2019

Sean Andrew Lindberg, born May 2, 1992 in Houston, Texas, died on Saturday, August 3, 2019, in Houston, Texas.

Sean “Poncho” was preceded in death by his idol, Papa Terry Lindberg, and his grandmother, Debbie Lindberg.

He is survived by his mom, Angela Lindberg, and honorary parents, Terry and Randi Lindberg; son Logan Sean Lindberg; siblings Alyssa Etherton, Cassandra Ramsey, Courtney Diaz, and Ray Munoz, Kyle Clark, and Michaela Lindberg.

Sean was an amazing, kind hearted, sarcastic and goal-oriented man. He worked as an operator for several years, recently taking a huge leap of faith changing his entire career path. He was a strong-willed, stubborn, God-fearing individual who would take risks never considering failure as an option.

He adored and loved his son beyond measure. He loved working outside and took so much pride maintaining his dream home where he and his girlfriend, Haylee Key, resided. He loved spending hours riding his mower manicuring the property, all while drinking a cold beer. He was a champion of adversity; despite all of the hardships, he always maintained a positive attitude and outlook on life. He never saw himself as anything less than a CHAMPION!!!

Honored to serve as pallbearers are Terry Lindberg, Kyle Clark, Cody Leeds, Mike Diaz, Ray Munoz, Martin Salgado and Dahlton Lambright.

Thank you all for loving Sean!

A funeral service will be held at 4:00 p.m., Friday, August 9, 2019 at El Mesias United Methodist Church, 406 East Rittenhouse in Houston, Texas.

“ Steven Vuittonet lit a candle Sean was a very good, loyal, honest friend of mine. We used to work together always challenging each other to see who can go harder. I treated him like my big little brother. He was never afraid to tell me what was on his mind and always corrected me if I was wrong. If I was down and out he'd empathize with me instead of judging me. Some people are irreplaceable and my brother Sean is definitely one those men. Rest in paradise brother and stay out of trouble!
